White House Reception to Army and Navy Officers.

A Number of Out-of-Door Affairs-Society Planning for the Summer Months.

With the approach of Jone, social fund tions, marriages excepted, grow few and far between. The past week has been almost exclusively taken up with garden parties and other out-of-door affairs. From a social standpoint the reception and garden party given at Twin Oaks, by Mr. and Mrs. Gardiner Hobbard, was the event, par excellence, of the week. Mr. Hubbard's charmingly picturesque country residence stands upon the highest point of a thickly wooded knoll.

The private roadway winding its way up the steep hillside, across picturesque bridges, which are at this time embowered in masses of blooming hedge roses, makes one of the most attractive drives in the vicinity of Washington.

The wide lawns, the masses of semitropical plants in luxuriant bloom, and the stretch of timbered country covered with huge caks, above the branches of which one can just see the top of the Washington Monument, make a rarely beautiful picture.

On Wednesday last these beauties of nature furnished the setting for throngs of beautifully-gowned women and prominent men, who strolled about the lawns or were grouped upon the spacious piazzas.

The guests of honor were the postal delegates, and the assemblage of guests who were invited to meet them included the Vice President and Mrs. Hobart, the members of the Cabinet, the entire corps diplomatique, the Army, Navy and Senatorial circles, as well as the representa-tive families of Washington.

Another very brilliant affair of the same date was the reception to the Countess di Brazza and Miss Clara Barton, which was given by Mrs. R. E. Kerens at the Cairo. The Greek colors were everywhere in evidence, and a most interesting collection of Greek antiques was on exhibition. Both the Countess di Brazza and Miss Clara Rarton gave very interesting talks on

Greece. The guests comprised a large num ber of prominent people. The reception given on Friday afternoon to the officers of the Army and Navy by President and Mrs. McKinley was the first formal function to the Army and Navy Later in the evening the President and Mrs. McKinley entertained a small com-pany at digner on board the Dolphia

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pellew also gave a very enjoyable reception to the Countess di Brazza carly in the week. The dinner given by the British ambassa dor, in honor of the birthday of Queen Victoria, was a very brilliant event, and alled together a number of her majesty's subjects who are at present in Washingto The marriage of Miss Perkins and Mr. Lars Anderson, which is to occur in Boston on June 10, is one of the more notable events which is of much interest-to Wash-ingtonians, as both the prospective bride and the groom have a large circle of friends in this city. The preparations for the marriage are on an elaborate scale, and it will doubtless be a most nagnificent affair.

The bridsl gown and trousseau are the nost elevant Parisian creations. Miss Elizabeth Anderson is to be maid of honor, and there are to be four brides-

A wedding breakfast and reception will follow the ceremony at the home of Commodore and Mrs. Perkins.

Another notable June wedding will be that of Miss Lorena Langdon Barber and Mr. Samuel Todd Davis, ir., of this city, which is to occur on June 22, at Ardsley Towers, on the Hudson, the summer home of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Barber.

It is to be an afternoon wedding, and the ten bridesmaids, among whom are to be several Washington girls, are to wear gowns of rainbow tints.

Albert R. Venzey, son of Judge Venzey, of this city.

The marriage of Mr. T. Frank Morgan of this city, to Miss Grace Lee Fisher, of West Virginia, is to occur on June 9 at 12 'ciock, at Buckhannon, W. Va.

On Wednesday, June 9, at St. Matthew's Church, this city, will occur the marriage of Miss May Elinor Barrett and Mr. Charles

The President and Mrs. McKinley held a card reception to Army and Navy officers and the ladies of their families on Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

The reception was held in the Blue Room. which was decked with spring blossoms and palms.

They were assisted in receiving the guests by Secretary Alger and Miss Alger, Secretary Long, Mrs. Long and Miss Long. Mrs. McKinley was becomingly attired in violet brocade; Mrs. Long wore a dainty gown of pale gray grenadine over rose colored silk; Miss Alger wore a chic gown of green taffeta, and Miss Long was gowned n flowered organdie with pink libbons. Among the guests were Gen. Stanton, Sen, and Mrs. Greely, Commander and Mrs. Chadwick, Capt. Cromwell, Miss Miles, Mrs. James Ivers McCollom, Commander and Mrs. Hoghes, Mrs. Clinton Cushing and many others. Miss Mary E. Gorman, will spend the sum ner abroad She sailed for Genoa yester-

The extra session will keep a large po tion of society in Washington until the dog days, if indications are to be trusted.

The members of the Cabinet have not made any definite plans for their summer's outing as yet. The Vice President and Mrs. Hobart will remain here until Congress adjourns, after which they will go to their summer home at Paterson, N. Gage will move out to Chevy Chase as soon which will be between this time and July . The families of Secretary Long and Secretary Bliss will summer in New England, and the family of the Postmaster Ge eral have been established in their beautiful summer home at Catensville, Md , for several weeks. One of the most enjoyable musical events of the week was the testimonial concert to Mr. Leo. Wheat at the Shoreham. Among those who assisted the eminent plantst were Miss Carrie Cotrell, Miss Georgie Mooney, Mr. Joseph Finckel and the Madrid Man-dolin and Guitar Club.

Ex-President and Mrs. Cleveland at tended a reception given by President Patton, of Princeton, at his home, "Prospoot." A large number of the under-graduates were, of course, introduced to Mrs. Cleveland, and, it is needless to say, she charmed them.

The garden party which was given yes terday at the Chevy Chase school, in aid of the Children's Hospital, proved to be a most enjoyable affair, and was largely attended by the fashionable people of Washington. The large and attractive building, with its beautiful grounds, was tendered to the ladies of the committee through the courtesy of Mile. Bouligny. The spacious halls and reception-rooms adorned with roses, hydrangeas and other springblossoms, and the wide verandas were dotted about with inviting refreshment tables, which were presided over by a charming corps of young girls and matrons, whose cordial welcome and kind attentions made the evening an exceedingly pleas-
